Mysterious Guns Result in Clash At League Session

Hungary and Rumania Wrangle Over Appearance of 2,000 Machine Guns at St. Gotthard—Committee of Three Countries Named to Report on Incident.

Geneva, March 7 (AP).—The mysterious St. Gotthard machine gun incident, involving the appearance of 2,000 machine guns in Hungary in contravention of the peace treaty, came up in the council of the League of Nations today and produced a clash between the representatives of Hungary and Rumania.

When discussion of the incident, which has held the close attention of the central European states, ended, the council appointed a committee of three countries, Holland, Chile and Finland, to examine voluminous documents of the subject and make a report.

The passage at arms between General Tancoz, representative of Hungary, and Foreign Minister Titulescu of Rumania followed a statement made by the latter entente—Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia—complaints in the league investigation concerning the weapons.

General Tancoz read a statement in which he referred to the relations between Hungary and her neighbors as "not yet excellent" and said that the steps taken by these neighbors in the St. Gotthard incident was not calculated to improve those relations.

Foreign Minister Titulescu protested that the little entente was acting in the interest of the league in the affair and that the talk of the Hungarian representative was "pouring oil on flames". To this General Tancoz replied that his remarks were the outcome of mature reflection, which brought the report from the Rumanian foreign minister that this only made the matter more serious.

Alert Austrian customs officials some months ago at the town of St. Gotthard on the Austro-Hungarian border viewed with suspicion six cars reported to contain iron implements. They wrenched them open and found them to contain 2,000 machine guns.

The cars got to the Hungarian side of the frontier. Hungarian officials said they were not destined for that country, that it was a mistake, and would the Austrians take them back? The Austrians replied they would not.

The treaty of Trianon limits the armament of Hungary, and shipment of arms into the country is a violation of that treaty. The little entente—Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia—requested the council of the League of Nations to look into the mysterious shipment.

The council put the matter on its agenda and notified Hungary. Suddenly Hungary announced that the guns had been broken up and the scrap would be auctioned.

The Chinese minister to Paris, Tchong Loh, as president of the league council, warned Hungary and asked that the auction be abandoned.

The auction was held as scheduled, however, and what was described as machine gun parts were sold to Hungarian junk dealers for $413. Many of the essential parts of a complete machine gun, such as gunlocks and gun barrels, were missing.

SAUGERTIES UNDERTAKERS HAD NARROW ESCAPE MONDAY

While removing the body of Clarence Seibert from a West Shore Railroad train at West Camp on Monday, George H. Smith, of the Seamon Brothers Company, and Albert Whitaker, who was assisting him, narrowly escaped serious injury. They had placed a baggage truck alongside of the train to place the body on it when a freight train crashed into the truck, hurling it under the stationary train. Smith jumped aside while Whitaker managed to leap into the baggage car, both escaping injury. Fortunately the body was not on the baggage truck at the time the truck was hit by the freight. Another truck was obtained and the body removed.

Guests of Sam Steindler Seek Compensation for Injuries Sustained in an Accident They Say Was Due to Unsafe Driving.

Two actions growing out of an automobile accident near Ashokan on September 6, 1925, were taken up for trial together in supreme court Tuesday afternoon. They are actions brought by Mrs. Hannah M. Adler, nee Mormentstein, and Nathan Ashokan against Sam Steindler of this city.

Mrs. Adler was the first witness called. She testified that during that year she had been employed in New York at a wage averaging $10 to $20 a week. While home visiting her parents she was invited to go to Fleischmanns with the Steindlers in their car. Mr. Steindler was also with them. She and Arnold Steindler occupied the front seat of the car. Mr. Steindler, Mr. and Mrs. Steindler were on the rear seat. It was raining.

On the way the Steindler car was driven at a fast rate of speed, at times 50 miles an hour. When near Ashokan the car skidded and turned over. She was rendered unconscious. She came to for a moment in a strange house and next gained consciousness at the home of her parents in this city. She was injured about the head and internally. Dr. Jacobson treated her. She returned to New York after a time but was unable to work steadily for some months.

On the trip she as well as Mr. Steindler and Mrs. Steindler remonstrated with the driver over the speed but he paid no heed and laughed at her fear. She said she demanded that he slow up or allow her to get out and return home.

Mr. Steindler, who is a rabbi, was also injured and prevented from filling a contract to preside at the Jewish holiday services and thereby lost a large sum of money and also was prevented from doing his duty for a long time. He received a fractured rib and other injuries. They both seek damages for their injuries and loss of wages.

Chris J. Flanagan appears for plaintiffs and John J. Scully and William D. Brinaker, Jr., appear for the defendants.

CONSPIRACY AMONG RAILROADS, SAYS LEWIS

Washington, March 7 (AP).—Conspiracy among the railroads, misuse of the judicial function, and exercise of the sovereign powers of the state by private police in the central railroads, were charged today before a senate committee by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Appearing as the first witness at the opening of the inquiry ordered by the senate into conditions in the coal fields, Lewis declared that among the first companies to abrogate their wage agreements with the union miners were the consolidation coal company, of which, he said, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a controlling factor, and the Pittsburgh Coal Company which is generally recognized in the financial world as a Mellon company.

"Due to its large financial resources and political affiliations," Lewis said, "the Pittsburgh Company was able to inaugurate a non-union drive in a big way to de-unionize its coal mines."

"Wholesale employment of coal and iron police, detectives and deputy sheriffs followed," he said.

"Former employees were evicted from their homes and a reign of terror and intimidation inaugurated that has excelled for brutality and lawlessness any union busting endeavor this nation has witnessed in recent years. The story of the outrages in Western Pennsylvania, perpetrated upon innocent populace by thugs and gunmen employed by the Pittsburgh Coal Company, will be submitted to this committee in a separate report."

HAPGOOD AND WIFE DEMAND RELEASE

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 7 (AP).—Powers Hapgood of New York and his wife, Mary Donovan Hapgood, today formally demanded their release from the Luzerne county jail, where they have been held since Sunday on a charge of inciting a riot.

A habeas corpus petition was presented in court by two local attorneys retained to defend the pair. Judge Jones fixed the hearing for tomorrow. Meanwhile, Hapgood and his wife will remain in jail.

At tomorrow's hearing Pittston police will testify as to the actions of the couple in attempting to conduct a public meeting in defiance of orders of Mayor W. H. Gillespie. All public meetings were banned following the killing of Alex Campbell and Peter Kelly in the mine feed at Pittston.

Poole of New York, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, Colonel Raymond Robins of Chicago, the Rev. James Murrell of London, and Governor Fuller of Massachusetts.

William H. Crane, Actor, Is Dead

Had Theatrical Career Carrying Him Through 33 Seasons—Accumulated One of Largest Fortunes Ever Made By Individual on Stage.

Hollywood, Cal., March 7 (AP).—William H. Crane, veteran actor of the stage, died here today. His theatrical career carried him through fifty-three seasons to a pinnacle unsurpassed by any comedian in the last two generations. It was paralleled in success by his home life, which included more than half a century of wedded happiness and was marked by a philosophy of "looking forward" which he indulged virtually until his death.

When the actor answered his last curtain call and retired amidst the mementos and remembrances of his colorful years, he often remarked of Mrs. Crane: "She's not my better half; she's my better seven-eighths."

Seemingly imbued with physical and mental energy, Crane told his guests at his eightieth birthday anniversary celebration: "Now that my theatrical career is drawing to a close, I want to write my memoirs. Life is not worth living unless one is doing the thing one wants to do. I want to do just one more play and when I have accomplished that, writing will be my occupation for the rest of my days."

Beginning his acting at a salary of "nothing a week," Crane was credited with having accumulated one of the largest fortunes ever made by an individual on the stage.

He was born at Leicester, Mass., April 30, 1845, the son of Amariah and Mary Crane. He received most of his schooling in Boston, where his mimicking of pupils and teachers won him recognition as an impersonator, but played havoc with his department card.

Crane acted all sorts of comic characters in "The Senator," "The American Minister," "The Governor of Kentucky," "His Wife's Father," "Father and the Boys," "David Harum," and numerous other plays.

Most of his time was spent in New York city during his active stage days, but in the closing years he established his "Fishing Box" at Cohasset, Mass., on the sea near Boston. He purchased a cottage and with a yearly addition or extension transformed it into a villa. Life on the water was a passion with him and he spent much of his leisure on his yacht. The Cranes deserted the "Fishing Box" and New York for Hollywood when the motion picture city began to assume importance.

South Dakota for Lowden and Smith

Lowden Unopposed and Unanimous Choice of Republicans—Smith's Name Opposed by That of U. S. Senator Walsh of Montana.

Pierre, S. D., Mar. 7 (AP).—Governor Smith of New York, Democrat, Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, Republican, have been named by their respective parties in South Dakota for nomination as president of the United States.

Governor Smith's running mate, as named at yesterday's Democratic state proposal men's meeting, would be Governor Dan Moody of Texas. Vice President Charles G. Dawes was chosen for renomination by the Republicans.

Lowden was the unopposed and unanimous choice of the Republicans but Governor Smith's name was opposed by that of United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana. One ballot was enough to decide the issue, with Governor Smith receiving 33,875 votes to 41,213 for Senator Walsh. Each proposal must cast the number of votes polled in his county at the last gubernatorial election, a majority being enough for endorsement.

Holton Davenport, who has directed the Smith movement in South Dakota, presented the name of Governor Smith to the meeting as "supporter of the under dog and justice," and as a man on "the right side" of agricultural problems.

MRS. WEST APPEARS IN HIGH SPIRITS

Painesville, Ohio, March 7 (AP).—Mrs. Velma West, in custody of Sheriff Rasmussen, two deputies and her guard, Mrs. Cora Nash, started today for the Marysville reformatory, where she has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the hammer slaying of her husband, J. Edward West. The 184 mile trip was by automobile.

Mrs. West, buoyed up by the hope of a parole in eight or ten years and the knowledge that she had escaped a possible death penalty, appeared in high spirits as she and the officers left the Lake county jail. She willingly posed for photographs, and waived a cheerful goodbye to reporters.

She had two motion picture magazines under one arm and her vanity case in her hand.

Chicago, March 7 (AP).—Promoter Jimmy Mullin today offered Jimmy McLarnin a flat guarantee of $50,000 to engage Sammy Mandell for the world lightweight championship here June 23, raising his previous offer of $25,000.

15 Election Law Bills Introduced

Albany, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—Fifteen bills designed to broaden the scope of the election law and related statutes because of the more arduous use of voting machines and to deal more stringently with prosecution of election frauds were introduced in the legislature today by Senator J. Griswold Webb of Dutchess and Assemblyman Abraham Griswold of New York, both Republicans.

The measures, drafted by Attorney General Albert Ottinger, will throw safeguards around the registration and count of the vote, and will expedite the punishment of anyone who is found guilty of invading the sanctity of the polling booth or the voting machine, as well as aid in suppressing election abuses," according to an explanatory statement issued by the attorney general.

Under the terms of one of the measures, failure of election officials properly to adjust a voting machine in advance of an election so that the machine could be operated in accordance with law would be punished as a felony. Another measure would require that inspectors keep in a separate book the names of any persons entering a polling booth for any purpose other than to vote, while a third bill is designed to make it easier for a voter to cast his ballot for a constitutional amendment by providing the largest possible type in the constitutional amendment space.

A series of proposed amendments to the penal law would classify as misdemeanors the voting at an election by a voter not qualified to do so, procuring another to do so, prompting a person on the question regarding his qualifications to vote, making false statements regarding his right to cast an absentee ballot, voting an absentee ballot when not entitled to do so, falsely pretending to be entitled to assistance when it is not needed, and committing certain offenses relative to registration and other election acts.

SHIP AT SEA LINKED TO SHORE BY TELEVISION

Steamship Berengaria, March 7 (AP).—A ship at sea has been linked to shore for the first time by television.

Spectators aboard the Cunard liner Berengaria in mid-Atlantic last night saw persons in a London studio appear before the transmitting apparatus. They saw the subjects move, and in one case the image that came out over the Atlantic was recognized.

The test lasted for two hours and at times the vision from London was said to be remarkably clear.

The receiving apparatus of the television aboard the Berengaria is in charge of Captain O. G. Hutchinson, managing director of the Baird Television Development Company of London. The person whose images were sent by television appeared before the transmitting apparatus in the London studio of the Baird Company. The method employed was only slightly different from that used in February when in a darkened cellar in Hartsdale, N. Y., spectators saw a man and women in the London studio.

WALKS 18 MILES IN SNOW TO SERVE ON JURY

Malone, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—How duty won a battle with the elements is being related in Malone today. Edwin Sprague, 57-year-old Duane resident, was drawn as a juror to serve during the convening term of supreme court here. He was due in Malone at 3 o'clock Monday morning. As the worst storm of the winter had blocked the roads so that to get through with a horse or car was out of the question, Sprague trekked the 18 miles from Duane to this village and did it without the aid of snow shoes. He left his home at 1 o'clock in the morning and arrived here at 5 o'clock, five hours later. More lustre is added to the achievement when one takes into consideration that throughout his long hike the mercury was between 8 and 10 degrees below zero.

DECLARES TELEVISION IN DEVELOPMENT STAGE

London, Mar. 7 (AP).—Highly elated over the successful transmission of images of persons from a London studio to the steamship Berengaria in mid-ocean, John L. Baird, inventor of the apparatus, said today it was only a matter of time until one half of the world not only would hear what the other half was doing, but would see as well.

"Television," he said, "is merely in the development stage. The day is not far distant when Americans crossing the Atlantic or the Pacific will be able to see, in colors, baseball, football, cricket and other sports, as well as theatrical performances, processions and any other scenes of action worthy of recording for persons scattered about the globe on sea and on land."

The fliers arrived here late yesterday after a 12-hour non-stop flight from Chicago.

Mrs. Knapp's Case Is Dropped, Not Sufficient Proof

Herrick Finds He Could Not Obtain Sufficient Evidence on Which to Obtain a Conviction—Declares Former Secretary of State Indiscreet and Reckless.

Albany, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—Criminal prosecution of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state and New York's first elected woman state official, recommended after the recent investigation into her conduct of the 1925 state census, has been discarded. District Attorney Charles J. Herrick found he could not obtain sufficient evidence on which to obtain a conviction.

Although Mr. Herrick believed Mrs. Knapp was "indiscreet and reckless" in her administration of the enumeration, which involved expenditure of $1,200,000, he reported to Governor Smith last night that he had been unable to find any evidence "to sustain the charges of crime set forth" in the report of Moreland Act Commissioner Randall J. Le Boeuf, Jr., named by the Governor to inquire into Mrs. Knapp's conduct of the census.

"She was indiscreet in the employment of her relations," said the district attorney. "She was still more reckless in the manner in which she obtained and used their checks. It she has suffered unjustly from the infamy that has been heaped upon her, she had no one to blame except her own recklessness or willful behavior."

"The evidence indicated that her work was well done, but her expenditures undoubtedly were extravagant and wasteful. Whether this could have been avoided by more experienced and practical officials must be determined by others. But there is no actual evidence that Mrs. Knapp dishonestly took money that did not belong to her."

The district attorney's action officially brought to a close a dramatic chapter in the history of the state, which began last September when Dr. Walter Laidlaw, secretary of the Citizens' Census Committee, Inc., a private organization interested in the gathering of census statistics, laid before Governor Smith charges that Mrs. Knapp had failed properly to administer the last state census.

The Governor immediately named Mr. Le Boeuf, a young Albany attorney, to make an investigation of the charges. During the inquiry considerable spectacular information regarding Mrs. Knapp's census administration was gathered, some of it purporting to show that she had employed relatives, whom she knew did no work, that she had removed and wilfully destroyed important records having to do with the census, and that she had wasted large sums of money in various ways in connection with the census work.

On the basis of evidence gathered at the hearings, held under authorization of the Moreland Act, Commissioner Le Boeuf, in a report to the Governor on January 22, recommended that Mrs. Knapp be prosecuted on charges of grand larceny, forgery, willful removal and destruction of state records, and false audit and certification of payrolls. Mr. Le Boeuf also recommended criminal action against several state employees who were associated with Mrs. Knapp during the taking of the census and also against Dr. Laidlaw.

In turning the report over to the district attorney for study as to the possibility of presenting the Knapp case to the grand jury, the Governor suggested the elimination of the names of the state employees. He took the ground that they were subordinates of Mrs. Knapp and had done her bidding. They were Mark Stern, first deputy secretary of state; Anna A. Little, auditor in the department of state; and Julia M. Ryan, chief clerk of the payroll division of the state Civil Service Commission.

Mrs. Ryan resigned from the state service, while under a recent reorganization of the department of state, both of the other employees, who were held over after Mrs. Knapp's term of office expired, are to be dismissed from the service. Their names are not mentioned in the report of the district attorney.

FIVE DOGS GASOTTED HERE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Five of the unlicensed dogs that had been impounded at Forsyth Park were gasotted at police headquarters on Tuesday afternoon. The dogs had not been redeemed by the owners within the specified time.

At a special meeting of the Downtown Business Men's Association held at 22 Ferry street Tuesday night plans were discussed for stimulating spring business. Election of officers was a feature of the meeting and the men chosen to head the organization promised their whole-hearted endeavors to equal accomplishments registered since the forming of the association.

The officers elected at Tuesday night's meeting were as follows: Harry Kaplan, president; Louis Stock, vice president; Henry Singer, secretary and Conrad J. Heiselman, treasurer.

The retiring president, Samuel Stern, gave the members an earnest talk in which he strongly urged the benefits of advertising, which he illustrated by many examples. The group of downtown business men listened attentively to what the speaker said concerning the "carry on" spirit to promote the benefits for which the society was formed. Cooperation and modern methods of doing business were emphasized as necessities in the conducting of business today and past-President Stern urged the men to adhere to these factors. In closing Mr. Stern explained the necessity of a "live" spirit to keep the association in a desirable status.

The talk was heartily appreciated by the merchants who were glad to hear from the newly-elected president, Harry Kaplan, that he would put forth every effort to keep the association in a prosperous condition. Mr. Kaplan has worked untiringly on various committees since the organization of the business men, who feel that continuance of his energetic action will mean a successful period while he is at the helm.

In like manner the other officers chosen have taken a great amount of interest in the Downtown Business Men's Association during its existence and Vice President Louis Stock, Secretary Henry Singer and Treasurer Conrad J. Heiselman are expected to play a big part in making Mr. Kaplan's term of office a bright one.

The second annual banquet of the association is expected to be held in the near future. Sara Kline is the chairman of the committee planning the event and promises that the meal and social time will equal if not surpass the successful banquet of last year.

At the time he was arrested he was driving a car owned by Mrs. Kuhn of 106 Cedar street. About a week after he was arrested he and Mrs. Kuhn were united in marriage by Judge Shufeldt.

PROHIBITION HERE TO STAY, DECLARES DORAN

St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 7 (AP).—Assured by the head of the nation's dry enforcement agency that prohibition is here to stay, delegates to the Anti-Saloon League's southern prohibition convention entered their final session today primed to make official pronouncements on the forthcoming presidential campaign.

While the morning meeting resolved itself into an open forum, public conferences and discussions, a resolutions committee went into executive session to frame the convention's presentments that were expected to deal vigorously with the candidates of "wet" aspirants to the presidency, party platforms and other phases of the dry question.

Meanwhile, the convention had before it the word of Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran that the dry laws can and would be enforced and "that it was time people realized that prohibition has become a permanent fact."

YOUTH WILL PLEAD GUILTY TO SECOND DEGREE MURDER

St. Clairsville, Ohio, Mar. 7 (AP).—Andy Dyken, 15 years old, who killed his mother and shot his father and a farmhand because his parents reprimanded him for not attending school, will plead guilty tomorrow to second degree murder, the youth's attorney, W. J. Walker, announced today. The maximum sentence is life imprisonment.

Dyken was found sane by a jury under a new Ohio law. He has been in the county jail since last December 7, the day following the shooting.

GIRL MUSICIAN
GOOD BUSINESS

Incorporates Herself to Raise Cash for Career and Makes Good.

New York—Here's the answer to the problem of those young Americans who feel they should surely become great musicians, artists or writers if they only had the money.

Incorporated! That's what Faye Ferguson did—became the only incorporated musical student in the world—with the result that now, in her early twenties, she's won the acclaim of New York's leading music critics, has distinguished herself as piano soloist with the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra and is on the high road to musical fame.

Doesn't Look Like It.

Miss Ferguson, a brunette of medium height and the vivacity of a debutante, doesn't look at all like a corporation. But legally she is so many shares of preferred stock, just like the Standard Oil company. With her success assured by critical recognition, she has revealed in an interview, the unique plan by which she obtained the funds to complete her musical education.

The child of a widowed mother in Little Ironton, Ohio, Miss Ferguson's chances of becoming a national figure in music didn't appear so bright, even though she had, by playing the piano in the local motion picture house and teaching a children's class, saved enough for a brief course at the Cincinnati conservatory.

Needing money for continued study but being too proud to accept the usual patronage bestowed on gifted youth by wealthy benefactors, she conceived the idea of selling stock in her musical career among Ohio friends, the shares to be bought back from the earnings of her prospective concerts. That was three years ago, and already she is buying in the stock.

It's Good Business.

"My system seems to me to offer the most satisfactory way out for the struggling artist. I believe that any young musician, painter or writer who has shown real ability can find enough persons interested in his work to help him as my patrons helped me.

"And I believe that the business men and women of any town that boasts an unexploited genius should not miss the artistic success. It is good business and good philanthropy."

Expression Is Grecian

"Eureka" is of Greek origin. It is a past perfect tense meaning "I have found." In English it is used as an exclamation of triumph upon making a discovery. According to legend, when Archimedes discovered a method of determining the purity of the gold in King Hiero's crown he cried: "Eureka." I have found. (It) is the motto of California.

Science to Search for

Cure of Common Cold

Baltimore—The resources of all branches of the Johns Hopkins university and the Johns Hopkins hospital are to be mobilized for a five-year research seeking the cause and cure of common colds. FRANK J. GOODNOW, president of the university, announced this recently in making public a grant of $150,000 from the General Foundation of 55 Beaver street, New York, to finance the work.

Common colds, it was said, disable four out of every ten men and seven out of every ten women each year, causing a loss to industry of 14 days a year for every man on the payroll and 21 days a year for every female employee. This, it was declared, represents a greater economic loss than is caused by any other one disease.

"Despite the widespread prevalence of common colds and the universal discomfort and great economic loss which they cause," said Doctor Goodnow, "there is very little exact knowledge concerning their cause or of dependable methods for their prevention and cure."

"Pneumonia, influenza and the group of diseases allied to the common cold, it is said, as a whole cause more deaths than any other infectious disease."

Old Roman Theater

Found by Spaniards

Merida, Spain.—Carefully executed excavations have brought to light in the extreme southwest section of Merida a Roman theater with a seating space for 5,383 people.

The theater is in a remarkable condition of preservation considering that it has been hidden for centuries under a thick layer of soil. Jose Ramon Melida, member of the Spanish Academy of History, is in charge of the work of excavation.

Galleries, pit, orchestra stalls, boxes, amphitheater, stage, dressing rooms and everything else connected with a theatrical performance are almost perfectly preserved. Much of the construction is of marble.

The world really grows better. It just seems awful, as it were, because some people still say "as it were."

Witches don't ride brooms any more. The modern witch can't even be induced to run an electric sweeper.

They can call cod liver oil a "substitute for sunshine" if they care to, but they are not going to fool the tide.

So live that your denial of the widespread rumor that you have passed on won't be a big disappointment.

Dismiss Actions Against Steindler

Scaly Plank No Testimony
Placing Any Blame for Negligence
—Jury Taken in Another Negligence Action.

In the conclusion of plaintiff's testimony in the two actions brought by Daniel M. Adler and Nathan Bologh against Sam Steindler, to recover damages for personal injuries growing out of an automobile accident, J. J. Scully, attorney for defendant, moved for a dismissal on the grounds that plaintiff had not made out a case on the further grounds that the plaintiff Bologh had testified that at the time of the accident a car had been driven from the road to the right of the Steindler car causing the driver of the defendant's car to apply the brakes and the car skidded and overturned. Motion was granted by Judge

In granting the motion Judge Scully stated that the burden placed on the plaintiff had not been sustained and there was no testimony in the case which placed any blame for negligence on the defendant. No testimony was given as to any negligent operation of the car at the time of the accident although it had been testified to that at times prior to the accident the car had been driven at a speed of 50 miles an hour on the trip. No testimony was given that at the time of the accident or immediately prior to it had the car been driven in negligent manner.

Mrs. Adler sought to recover for personal injuries and loss of wages and Prof. Bologh, a Rabbi and choir leader and instructor of this city, testified he had lost $300 for presiding at the Jewish holidays which followed the accident. He alleged that by the accident he had been so injured that he had to decline the position. The accident happened near Ashokan on September 6, 1925.

Chris J. Flanagan appeared for plaintiffs and John J. Scully of Albany for the defendant.

A jury was taken in another negligence action brought by Daniel A. Curley and Morris Curley of Saratoga doing business under an assumed name, etc., against Christopher C. Van Valkenburg. ASKS $25,000 TO DEVELOP SARATOGA RESERVATION

Albany, Mar. 7 (AP).—Appropriations of $25,000 for developing the state reservation at Saratoga Springs and of $10,000 for formulating a policy of caring for the dependent non-institutional poor were recommended to the Legislature today by Governor Smith.

"I am strongly of the opinion that Saratoga Springs reservation should be fully developed by the state," the Governor said in a special message. "By that I mean that we should have additional bath houses, assembly halls and buildings of the same general character as those to be found at the European spas. We should have operated in connection with the baths modern hotels, and we should develop the state lands adjoining the springs."

"Nothing, however, can be accomplished without a definite plan. I therefore recommend that the state superintendent of the public works, through the division of architecture, acting in conjunction with the conservation department, be charged by law with the duty of preparing a comprehensive plan and specifications for a full and complete development, giving to the people of the state and of the country the full benefit of the great advantage of these health giving waters."

FERRIS WILL SUPPORT WALSH NOT SMITH

Detroit, Mar. 7 (AP).—In a letter to William A. Comstock Democratic national committeeman, received today, United States Senator W. Ferris declared that he would not support Governor Alfred E. Smith for the Democratic presidential nomination but he will support instead, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana. Ferris added he would not be a candidate for reelection to the office this fall.

Netburn Returns.

Soot Settles on Cities

Enough soot and dirt float over American cities in one year to bury every street on Manhattan island to a depth of 21 feet, according to estimates published in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Or, if dumped in one pile, it would make a pyramid 1500 feet high and five miles across at the base.

Knitted Sweater Frock in Fashion

Two and Three-Piece Models Being Shown for Early Spring Wear.

Knitted sweater-frocks in two and three-piece styles are being shown by designers for early spring wear under the new topcoats. These dresses are quite different from what is ordinarily expected of this type of frock and the newest fashion trends from Paris are incorporated in the styling. For instance, the new kerchief collar is used to add variety. It is made with a contrasting color in robe form in the back, and the extra ends are brought around to tie in a bow knot in front. Another type of neck that promises to be very smart is made with five points, the back being square and extending over the shoulders while the front, instead of crossing in a straight line, drops into a deep "V" which is most becoming. The V-neck is again shown as well as the flat "crew," canoe and geometric necklines.

These dresses are made of a soft cashmere wool or one of the new rayon mixtures that have a firm hand thread that prevents the garment from stretching and at the same time assures minimum warmth. This new texture is used in different weaves to achieve the effect of tucks, plaits, fancy ribbing and so forth. Different designs are worked out in the weaving and at a distance look exactly like fine hand-blocked prints.

Costume slips made for wear with the new spring chiffon and crepe dresses show a wealth of detail in the finishing. The seams are no longer merely machine stitched, but are now made with hemstitched scallops, pleat edges, petal effects and cut-out tabs following the trend of uneven hemlines. To wear with some of the very slinky fabrics, there are numerous models with tiny ruffles put in circular lines. The tops are made to fit snugly and serve as foundation for the dress. At the waist there is a decided bodice effect, fitting snugly to prevent any suggestion of bulk or extra fullness that might destroy the smart, smooth lines needed about the hips. Shoulder straps are made mostly of flesh-colored net.

Pale Tones Are Liked for Dainty Lingerie

When one buys lingerie in Paris, it is taken quite as a matter of course that it is handmade. Extravagant motifs in embroidery or spectacular effects in colors are regarded with little favor.

The French have an innate as well as a cultivated appreciation of details, and are sensitive to beauty in any of its phases. Fresh, peach and apricot are the tones most liked.

There has been a distinct revival of interest in lace since the war. Old ivory-tinted laces of many types are combined with such pastel tones as are worn for the more intimate garments, but Valenciennes edgings, too, are used with and without embroidery and drawn work.

There are also charming appliques, bindings in contrasting colors, and linings of contrasting material, such as georgette or net with crepe de chine.

French lingerie is given more to finely plaited effects than is the lingerie purchasable and applicable to America.

Keep Measurements of Each Member of Family

A record of the measurements of each member of the family is a short cut in home sewing that saves time and fittings. The measurements may be divided into three groups: those necessary for buying a pattern such as the bust, chest and hip measure; those needed in checking the size of the pattern and in cutting the garment; and those needed for finishing the garment. With these on hand, the home seamstress can go ahead with her sewing without having to take measurements each time a dress or suit is made.

MAYOR WALKER REACHES AGREEMENT IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 7 (AP).—Mayor Walker of New York looked over Washington today for the first time since he took office and although he kept President Coolidge and three cabinet members waiting, succeeded in reaching a tentative agreement on the business which brought him here, construction of a federal building in the city over which he retains.

After Walker had met with treasury officials, it was made known that the tentative proposal provides for the purchase of the site of a site in the city center north of the city hall from the city of New York and for the construction of a court building provided the city of New York presented to the government a suitable site for the city hall sub-post office.

If this arrangement can be satisfactorily consummated, the government was represented as willing to turn the present federal building back to the city, from which it was purchased for a half million dollars many years ago.

Defends Our Foreign Policy

Boston, Mar. 7 (AP).—A defense of American foreign policy against criticism of those who profess to see war-like tendency in what they term the imperialistic trend of the United States was made today by W. D. Castle, Jr., assistant secretary of state, speaking before the Republican Club of Massachusetts at a luncheon here.

The United States, he declared, wants no new territory and has no desire to include a single alien group under its control, but on the contrary wants to "assist other nations, to make them strong and wise and self-sufficient so that they can fearlessly respect and respected by other nations." Canada, he said, has the same ideals and aspirations.

Navaras Must Revise Plan

The Zoning Board of Appeals met at the Municipal building on Tuesday afternoon. Judge Clearwater, its president, presided. An appeal was presented by Frank Navara and Barbara Navara from the decision of the Board of Public Works denying them permission to erect a two-story frame structure building designed for a dwelling on the second floor and a store on the main floor, the store to be used for conducting the business of selling stationery, refreshments and toys on the property situated at the northeast corner of Foxhall and Flatbush avenues. This application was denied by the Board of Public Works upon the grounds that the property partially was within the residential zone. After hearing the applicant, who was represented by Floyd W. Powell, and Mary L. Taylor, the owner of property adjoining the northern boundary line of the Navara lot in opposition to the application, the Zoning Board visited the location and decided that the plan of the building submitted by the Navaras was inadequate.

They were of the view that the Navaras could erect a dwelling house on the property, but if they proposed to use any part of it for a store, the plan greatly would have to be remodeled. They therefore, held the matter open until their next meeting on the first Tuesday of April.

What we mean by simplicity!

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

Not a single piece of machinery under the cabinet of the General Electric Refrigerator. Not a single drain pipe or connection inside. Not a bit of mechanism in the basement. Not a fan or a belt or a stuffing box—anywhere. This is what we mean when we say that the General Electric Refrigerator is simplified.

All its machinery is enclosed in an air-tight casing of steel. We merely lower this into the specially built cabinet. There isn't a pipe to solder or a connection to make. It's all intact—hermetically sealed in the factory, where it is tested and retested.

Draped Silk Blouse Is Simple, Easy to Make

Although the draped blouse in this dress looks difficult you will find it quite simple and easy to make, says the Woman's Home Companion. The right side at the closing edge is cut perfectly straight but a little longer than the left so that when you bring it up to meet the left at the hip it falls into a soft becoming fold. And the jabot that hangs over the skirt is nothing more than a square-cut piece dangling in plaits from one of its corners. This jabot, by the way, is a matter of choice—you may either have it or not—as the dress is quite complete without it. Although the frock is designed for a plain silk crepe with contrasting facings it would also be attractive in a print.

On Rearing Children from CRIB TO COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of "CHILDREN, The Magazine for PARENTS"

Children need privacy just as adults do and their wish for privacy should be respected by their parents.

The family is not dying. It is on as firm a foundation as ever; it is likely to continue the predominant unit of civilization; but it is undergoing and will continue to undergo changes. In the process of these changes fathers and mothers will be called on to learn and practice the art of family life with all the skill and intelligence of the practitioners of other professions. The integrity of the family of the future will depend largely on our success in the training of young people for marriage and parenthood.

Children to whom only worth while books have been read, unconsciously grow to prefer the best in books and will go on choosing them for the rest of their lives.

The idea that we eat with teeth is older than our race; the idea that we eat for teeth is comparatively recent. Food builds us. And teeth are a part of us. What foods build teeth? Obviously those which contain the materials of which the teeth are made. Teeth and bone are made of ligno mostly and other minerals. Fine foods are milk, cheese, vegetables, fresh fruit, eggs, whole grain cereals and breads.

Parents be consistent. Study every aspect of the present-day world that presents itself for your observation. Live today, not yesterday, or last week. Talk modern problems over with your boy or girl from a 1928 viewpoint.

We are fond of telling our children that "we got what we give in this world." Do we always appreciate the truth ourselves?

We hear much complaint nowadays of the failures of the young generation—of their lack of consideration of others, their selfishness, their waywardness. In uttering these complaints parents fail to recognize that they are confessing their own failure to bring out all that is best in their children. We cannot shower gifts upon our little ones, give them all they ask for, treat them as if they had "an insatiable right to happiness" and then expect them to express gratitude for that for which we have never trained them to be thankful.

Fear can and does faster in the souls of many adults who were frightened in their youth. Even when they are no longer consciously afraid of the thing that frightened them in their youth, they are afraid of fear, ashamed of their own cowardice. They are always something less than the fulfilled and richly living men and women they should be.

Children's parties should be arranged either for soon or late in the afternoon so that refreshments may take the place of either midday dinner or supper in order that the child's regular schedule of meals may not be disturbed.

Healing Stones of Hawaii
Miraculous cures are said to be obtained in Hawaii by visits to the famous "healing stones" of Waialeale, near Hanalei. People with various incurable diseases go to them and come away apparently well.

Metzger Policies Were Not in Force

Judge Staley Directs Verdict of No Cause of Action in Three Suits Against Insurance Companies to Recover for Fire Loss on Albany Avenue Factory Sustained in 1916.

A verdict of no cause of action was returned Tuesday in all three suits brought in supreme court by Emanuel Metzger, individually and as receiver of the Kingston Chemical Manufacturing Company, of which he was president, against the Aetna and Boston Insurance Companies. The suits grew out of the loss of the factory building of the corporation on February 5, 1916. The factory was located on Albany avenue.

Two of the actions were for insurance on the buildings and one was for personal property. The personal property action was tried during the morning and at the conclusion Judge Staley directed a verdict for defendant company, the Aetna Insurance Company. The other two suits brought to recover for the building loss were taken up at the afternoon session and at the conclusion of the defendant's case Judge Staley directed a verdict in favor of the defendant companies of no cause of action.

The insurance claimed from the Aetna Insurance Company amounted to $5,000 equally divided between the personal property and the insurance on the building. The Boston policy was for $1,500 on the building.

In June of 1916, Mr. Metzger, as president of the Kingston Chemical Company, took out insurance on the then uncompleted buildings through the agency of Decker & Fowler of this city. That was builders' risk insurance. Later in October and November when the buildings had been completed the policies over which the discussion arose were taken out. At that time Mr. Metzger asked for insurance and he claims Mr. Fowler attempted to get insurance for 65 cents a hundred but the policies were held at the rate of $1.25. At the time Mr. Metzger said he understood that there had been no classification as to risk by the Underwriters' Association on the building or its use to which it was being placed. He knew there would be a reclassification of the rate. He admitted Mr. Fowler had so informed him. The insurance was written at $1.25 a hundred and accepted by Mr. Metzger and the premium paid.

Later, after the underwriters had examined and placed a rating on the plant, Mr. Fowler caused to be sent to Mr. Metzger a bill for additional premium at a $5 rate. This Mr. Metzger said he had considered unreasonable and had so told Mr. Fowler when he met him. He never paid the additional premium. The bill was sent in December and the fire took place the following February. Mr. Metzger said he had refused to pay the premium demanded and Mr. Fowler had demanded the policies stating that the policies would be cancelled. To this Mr. Metzger said he replied that the next time he was up to the insurance company he denied, however, that he had ever told Mr. Fowler that he had cancelled the policies. He said he had not paid the additional premium and was waiting for the company to file a 5 day notice of cancellation of the policies and then he said he intended to pay the premium demanded. No cancellation notice was received by him and he did not consider the policies cancelled.

Everett Fowler of the firm of Decker & Fowler testified that he had written the policies and had demanded the additional premium when the underwriters had fixed the rate. The first policies had been written for $1.25 with the understanding that it was a temporary rate subject to revision when the rate was fixed. At the time, he said, he did not know what the rate would be, it might be higher or lower as the building was used for the manufacture of combustibles the rate would be high.

Mr. Fowler said Mr. Metzger had told him he would not pay the increased rate and he had replied that the only thing to do was to cancel the policies then. Metzger said that was all right, he did not want the policies. Later, Mr. Fowler testified, he met Mr. Metzger and Metzger said he was carrying his own insurance. The witness also testified that Metzger told him to go to his office and get the policies, that he would remove them from the safe so that Mr. Fowler could get them when he called if Mr. Metzger was absent. Mr. Fowler said he had gone to Metzger's office and Metzger was not there and he could not get the policies.

Mr. Fowler said he met Mr. Metzger the day after the fire near the Kingston Club and at that time Metzger had asked him to accept the unpaid premiums and say nothing about the matter. Fowler said he told Mr. Metzger he could not do it, the policies he had considered dead. He also testified that on the night of the fire someone purporting to be from Metzger's office had called him on the phone and told him that Mr. Metzger was in Newark and had telephoned to Kingston telling the person speaking to ask Mr. Fowler to take the premium on the policies and not say anything about it. Mr. Fowler said he refused.

On the stand Mr. Metzger denied that he had ever offered to pay the premium and told Mr. Fowler to keep it quiet. He also denied he ever said he was carrying his own insurance. He said he had told Mr. Fowler he had always intended to pay the premiums.

At the conclusion of the case the defendant moved for a non-suit on the ground that Metzger had known the rate situation and had refused to accept the terms of the insurance companies. Judge Staley, in directing a verdict for defendant companies, stated that the only question was "were the policies in effect at the time of the fire." He believed the policies were subject to a rating and both parties evidently knew that. When the rate was fixed there had never been an agreement between parties arrived at. In the absence of such an agreement there was an absence of a meeting of the minds of the parties and consequently there could be no contract. There being no contract the policies were void and he directed a verdict for defendants.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler and A. J. Cook appeared for plaintiff and Mr. Sullivan of Ainsworth, Carlisle & Sullivan with Judge William D. Brammer, Jr., appeared for the defendants.

Several Grass Fires Here.

The fire department was called out Tuesday for several grass fires. There was one on the lowlands off Albany avenue, another along the Ulster & Delaware railroad near the Van Slyke & Horton factory, and still another on Shufeldt street. Smoke from the heating plant filled the house at 46 Garden street causing a still alarm to be sent in to the fire department.

Yankees Are Standing Pat

Manager Muggins' Contemplates No Immediate Change in Lineup—Reserve Forces Bolstered—Ruth Reports in Great Condition.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 7 (AP).—From the pinnacle of a world championship, the New York Yankees are standing pat with their shock troops and preparing for baseball war in time of peace only by bolstering their reserve forces.

Manager Muggins contemplates no immediate changes in the lineup that was good enough to turn back all American League opposition and vanquish the National League champions in four straight games.

The infield will remain as constituted at the close of the last season with Lou Gehrig at first, Tony Lazzeri playing second, Mark Koenig taking care of short and Joe Mauer at third. His major have the injury on Lazzeri in early training but it is expected that he will come on and catch up.

Duran will be given a lift at third when necessary to time Robertson back in the major leagues after a stay with St. Paul, and going at a great clip in the spring workouts. The former St. Louis player gets extra speed by discarding his stockings and goes his barelegs way around third base in high gear at all times. Leo Durocher, capable shortstop, has also come to the Yankees from St. Paul, and Mike Gazella, retained from last year's championship array, makes the third extra infielder.

Ruth, Combs and Meusel hold their own without serious opposition and Pascual and Darrst will again stand by. Allen Cooke has been hitting a long ball in practice and has a chance to remain for a time at least.

The Yankees have their three 1927 catchers intact—Collins, Benough and Grabowski, and three more in the camp. Two of the newcomers were college stars—Bryant, once of Oklahoma, and Elsemann, who caught for Syracuse. The third, Bill Dickey, aged 21 and 5'10" tall, over six feet in height, has impressed Muggins and the members of the gallery who deserted the horse shoe pitching to see the Yanks practice.

Two young pitchers, both from the American Association, have shown enough to insure their places on the staff—Henry Johnson, from Milwaukee and Al Shealy from St. Paul. Herb Pennock, Walter Hays, George Piggas, Wiley Moore and Myles Thomas will know their way about the Yankee Stadium without a guide.

Babe Ruth, tanned to a crisp, waffle-like brown from long days on the golf courses, reported for duty in great condition, hopeful of a crushing attack on his record of three score home runs last season. Lou Gehrig, junior member of the home run team, got an early start, playing baseball while Babe was playing at golf, and the Bronx boy is ready to start hitting them now.

SIXTY REPORT FOR BASEBALL AT HIGH SCHOOL.

About sixty players responded to the call for varsity baseball candidates Tuesday at the Kingston High School. At this meeting Coach Kias addressed the aspirants on the rudiments of the game and gave some valuable advice. Outdoor practice will commence as soon as weather permits, but meanwhile battery men will begin to get in shape in the gym.

Last year's nine, DUSO League champions, has, in the main, graduated. The regulars left are Captain Paul Joyce, pitcher and first baseman, and Jones and Brown in the outfield. Men who have been on the second team previously that have registered this year are: Miller, Balinsky, Fischer, Moynaux, Eymann, McTague, Mohr, Gaddis, Schornstemer, Burgerlin, Smith and Merrill.

DAZZY VANCE SIGNS AT REPORTED FIGURE OF $20,000.

Clearwater, Fla., March 7 (AP).—Holdout worries of the Robins have faded with the signing of Dazzy Vance, the National League strike-hitting, at a reported figure of $20,000 a year. Vance, the last of the Brooklyn holdouts, had been dickering for a two year contract at this salary, but the Dodgers' management talked him into a one year agreement. Vance is now the highest salaried pitcher in the National circuit and the second highest, paid in the majors, being topped by Herb Pennock, of the Yankees, who draws $22,000.

BULLET JOE BUSH BACK WITH MACK

Pitched a No-Hit Game Against Cleveland.

The fact that Joe Bush is going back to the Athletics causes me to go up my score book and turn to the game that Bullet Joe pitched against the Indians on August 23, 1916, writes Henry F. Edwards in the Cleveland Field Dealer.

That was the first year the late Jim Dunn owned the Indians and the title was composed of such excellent players as Steve O'Neill, Tris Speaker, Bobby Roth, Ray Chapman, Jack Graney, Terry Turner, Chick Gandil and Bill Wambach. Plenty of hitters in that aggregation, yet Joe, whose arm had been on the blink, shut them out without a hit.

If it had not been for Jack Graney, Bullet Joe would have had a perfect game with not an opponent reaching first base. But you remember what a tough batter "Three and Two" Graney was to pitch to. Well, Jack, one of the most aggravating batters that ever faced a pitcher, worked Joe for a pass in leading off in the first inning. Terry Turner sacrificed Jack to second, whereupon Bush struck out Speaker and Roth.

Then it was one-two-three each inning the remainder of the game. Steve O'Neill led off for the Indians in the ninth. He struck out. Bob Coleman, now manager of the Evansville club, batted for Fred Combe and also fanned. Up came Jack Graney, the man who had spoiled a perfect game. The crowd yelled for him to strike out so as to insure a no-hit game for Bush but, instead, Jack exchanged a bunch of repartee with Bush and eased the information to him that he intended to hit a home run. But a pop fly to First Baseman McInnis was the sum total of his effort.

Bush fanned seven of the Indians, Graney and Gandil being the only regulars to escape. Coveleskie started the game for Cleveland, but was knocked out of the box in the fifth. Bush contributing a two-base hit that scored Yal Pienich, who was catching him. Joe then scored on Whitley Witt's triple. The Macks had McInnis on first, Lajoie on second, Witt at short, Pick on third and Schank, Strunk and Walsh in the outfield. Combe, who replaced Coveleskie, allowed five hits in three innings, but was not scored on, Philadelphia winning, 5 to 0.

Bush may be through as a pitcher, but he should be of great value to Connie Mack as a coach and coach.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, March 7 (AP).—Gene Tunney may have his social obligations to fulfill while spending most of the winter in Florida, but the heavyweight champion is not allowing them to interfere with preparations for his future engagements in the summer.

The picture of Gentleman Gene, as brought back from Miami Beach by the big gymnasium and muscle man, Arnie McGovern, is not of an athlete in repose on the sands but of an energetic young business man concentrating upon the plans for one or two deals this year in left hooks preferred.

Tunney is close to fighting shape right now, training regularly and thoroughly," said McGovern. "Like Babe Ruth he knows the value of all-year-round condition. Gene is within three pounds of his best fighting weight now. He doesn't vary that much the year round."

For those who may be skeptical of the way Mr. Tunney puts in his time, this is a sample daily schedule verified by Mr. McGovern:

Up and dressed by 8:30 or 9:45, regularly, after going through a series of setting up exercises.

King workout, rope skipping, shadow boxing and sparring with one or more of his camp mates.

Hearty breakfast, about 10:30, the first of only two meals on the daily schedule.

Attends to correspondence and other business until about 1:30.

Afternoon diversion, usually golf, champion's only sport hobby outside the ring.

Dinner at about six, followed by evening social activity or reading before retiring in time to insure regular rest of at least 8 hours.

Tunney's rules for health and proper condition are far from complicated.

"If I were passing on any advice to boys and young men," Gene told McGovern, "I would urge them to do these four main things—exercise consistently and properly, regulate the daily schedule, eat wholesome food and avoid stimulants."

These are the champion's rules. He neither drinks nor smokes. He Does not use even coffee or tea. Two quarts of water are part of his daily diet. While he is in training camp before a fight he drinks two quarts of milk daily.

CHANDLER TO PLAY IN Y. M. C. A. TOURNAMENT

Saturday afternoon the Chandler basketball team will represent the local Y. M. C. A. in the Northeastern District tournament to be played at Cohoes. The locals will meet some fast stepping opponents during the trip there and will fight hard for a trip to Ohio where sectional tournaments will be conducted by the "Y."

The following men will perform in the best style they know in an effort to put Kingston on the "Y" map as a producer of good basketball players: Norm Niles, Chet Fox, Ken Kennedy, Joe Dullin, Joe Blass, Joie Hoffman and Hank Krum.

These boys, who were coached during the season by "Pop" Hilde, physical director of the "Y," will compete with such teams as Cohoes, Amsterdam, Troy, Albany and Watervliet.

TWO TEAMS TIED IN SIX DAY BICYCLE RACE

New York, March 7 (AP).—After a night of desperate riding featured by many stolen laps, two teams were still tied for first place at the end of the 53th hour in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden at 3 a. m. today. The deadlocked teams were the French combination of Le-tourner-Brocado and the Italian-American team, Belloni and Beckman. They had ground out 236 miles and nine laps.

Pressing them closely were three other teams, just a lap to the rear. These were Georgetti-Debaets, Spencer-Walthour and Walker-Hill. The rest of the field was scattered.

TERRY STARTS HOME RUNS IN GIANTS' CAMP

Augusta, Ga., March 7 (AP).—Memphis Bill Terry has started home run popping in the Giants' camp with a pair of the long drives in his first workout. Six mates came through with a big wallop apiece too. Barrett's four-ply hit with two aboard, giving his side a 4 to 3 victory in an assorted line-up of players yesterday.

The Giants play their first exhibition game against Walter Johnson's Newark Internationals Saturday. Johnson, who has been ill with the flu, sent word he would be on deck at game time.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT AT GLEN FALLS MARCH 20-21

Glen Falls, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—The Ninth Annual Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament for the championship of the Northeastern United States will be held in this city March 20, 21 and 22. Eight teams will compete in the tournament, which will be an elimination tournament.

Participation in the tournament is in response to invitations and acceptances have been received from Rogers High School, Newpfort, R. I.; York College Institute of York, Pa.; and Peekskill Military School, Peekskill, N. Y. Invitations also have been sent to Holyoke High School, Holyoke, Mass., and the Christian Brothers Academy of Syracuse, N. Y., the present champions, but no replies have been received from these schools.

Glen Falls will be represented in the tournament by one of its three schools—Glen Falls Academy, Glen Falls High School and St. Mary's Academy—now battling through a city series to decide which shall be the local representative in the tournament.

The tournament games will be played on the court of the Junior High School, which is neutral territory for all competitors, and none of the competing teams will be allowed on the court until time for the opening game of the titular clash.

Thus far, the committee in charge has selected but one referee, John Cassidy of Saratoga Springs. John Timmons of Glen Falls is being considered, and if not selected as one of the referees will probably act as timekeeper. Don Risley of Utica and George Tilden of Schoenectady have refereed in past tournaments, and it is expected that Risley, at least, may again handle the whistle during the coming clash.

All eight teams will play in the four games scheduled for the opening night, opposing teams being selected by lots by Mayor Orrville C. Smith. The four survivors of the elimination battle on the opening night will play in the semi-finals on the second night. Winners of the semi-finals will meet on the closing night for the championship, while the semi-final losers will play for a consolation award.

Trophies will be presented to the teams finishing first, second and third, and numerous other awards will be given at a banquet after the final game. Medals will be awarded individual players as follows:

To the player making the fewest personal fouls in at least one game.

To the player considered the most valuable to his team.

To the player scoring the most foul points in any one game.

Gold basketballs will be awarded to the coach and members of the winning team. Another award to be made at the victory banquet is being kept secret by the committee.

MORE KIDS WORSE ABOUT MARGARET OF DELAWARE

While in conversation with several of the Fox-Terrill children, a discussion took place on type and size of this game breed. It was hard to demonstrate our views, but if these interested will study the famous—and justly so—International Champion Smooth Bitch, Ch. Margaret of Delaware, owned by that sincere enthusiast, J. T. DeBols, of Baldwin, Long Island, one will see the personification of type with the long punishing head, well placed ears, good length of neck which is placed in clean sloping shoulders, legs bowed right down to the feet which are deep and of cat-like formation, good depth from withers to chest, with just a semblance of rise over the loins, the well-muscled quarters with and last but not least, stifles rounded and heels well set down—without this formation a dog cannot walk right—and a early carried stern—set held in position but absolutely as natural. Such is the superb champion, Margaret of Delaware, one of the best smooths or wires we have had in America during the past decade.—Charles G. Hopton in Rod and Gun, February, 1932.

ARMY-NAVY BASEBALL GAME AT ANNAPOLIS JUNE 2

West Point, N. Y., March 7 (AP).—While the Army-Navy football classic is off the current athletic card, the two government institutions will clash on the diamond this year at Annapolis on June 2. The baseball schedule made public today by Major Philip B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, calls for Army to tussle with the New York Giants here on April 9, inaugurating the opening of the schedule. Army has games booked with the Yankees, Harvard, Georgetown and Fordham also, but the big contest is the Navy game, which will see two of the cadet varsity gridiron squad in baseball togs, namely Quarterback Nave and Fullback Odum.

Sunday School Games Tonight

Is the opener of the three day Sunday School League games at Y. M. C. A. street tonight, the games will take on the President's team. The annual game will be between the Port Ewen and Congregational teams while the number one playing will be closed by Comforter and Trinity Outcasts.

Tonight's title will hold plenty of excitement for a large number of fans, who are expected to come to light hard in order to hold the present status. The Redemonstrators is counting strongly on a win on the Presbyterian and will cheer for Port Ewen team, opponents of the Comforters. The Redemonstrators will be tied for first with the Congregationalists, providing the latter team is overcome by Port Ewen.

61 HOMERS ON BUSH, WATCHWORD OF THE YEAR

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 7 (AP).—The bustling Babe is at it again. Forfeaking his golf spree, he donned a Yank uniform yesterday and whacked out a homer to Crabbe Lake. He lumped five other long drives, too, which would have him good for four-baggers in any game.

"Sixty-one homers or best," is the watchword for the great Ruth in the 1934 campaign. He slugged sixty in 1933.

"Wouldn't you rather hit 400 than bat out sixty-one homers?" Ruth was asked.

"I should say not," replied the Yankee's $70,000 star. "The more I would rather see the hit one home right than three doubles to left."

"Anyway, there's more jack in it for me in this home run racket," he added with a sly grin.

To Depend on Girls

Women athletes of the United States Olympic teams may be the deciding factors of America's defense in winning track and field titles at the International Olympic games this summer in Amsterdam, Holland. This year's games will find women athletes in a separate division and their scores will be included in the totals published at the conclusion of the meets. It is now very likely that America will depend upon its girl athletes, namely such stars as Ellen Hough of Pasadena, Calif., Katherine Mearles of Boston, Rita Cartwright of Eureka, Calif., Helen Milkey of Chicago, and Eleanor Egg of Pasadena, N. J., to clinch enough points to bring the Olympic titles to this country. The photograph shows Eleanor Egg.

Freak Bet Is Recorded at Tijuana Race Track

A freak of race-horse betting was chalked up on the board at the Tijuana Jockey club track after the first race when the odds on Bay Lad, the winner, were posted.

Bay Lad paid $136 for $2 straight, $260 place and $220 show. The place and show prices are unusually small. It was a baby race for two-year-old maidens and Bay Lad bent eight other horses, running three furlongs in :35 flat, within one-fifth second of the track record for the distance.

99-Year Grid Contract Is Signed in Florida

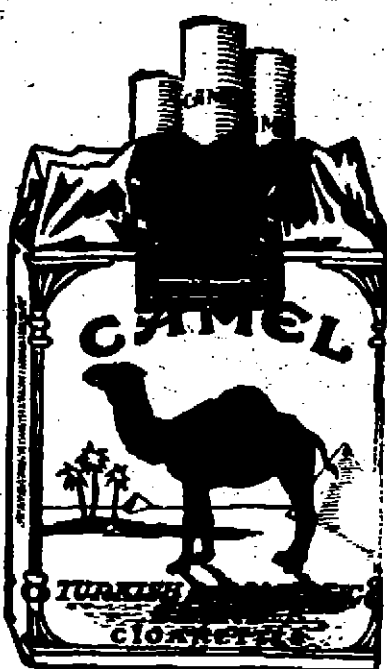

The longest term football contract in existence has been signed at Gainesville, Fla., the athletic committees of two national collegiate fraternities at the University of Florida—Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Theta—entering into agreement to play an annual football game for the next 99 years.

The unique contract, calling for contests through the year 2077 A. D., specified that the annual games be played the second Saturday following the close of the regular varsity football season at Florida.

Metropolitan Temple Burned

Methodist Church Formerly Abandoned by Gen. T. S. Grant and Long a Landmark in Greenwich Village, Destroyed by Fire.

New York, March 7 (AP).—President Grant's old church in Greenwich Village, the Methodist Episcopal Temple, known as the Metropolitan Temple, was destroyed by fire early today.

The old building, which has been a landmark in the village for nearly a century, was on Seventh Avenue between Thirtieth and Fourteenth streets. Dr. S. Parker Cadman was pastor of the church before he assumed charge of the Central Congregational Church of Brooklyn. Gen. T. S. Grant was a communicant after his retirement from the presidency. Three stained glass windows dedicated to President Lincoln, Grant and Roosevelt and a pipe organ which was a memorial to President McKinley were among the treasures destroyed.

The Rev. Wallace MacMullen was pastor of the church.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Tuesday evening was excellent from most stations but very weak from Chicago. Other western stations were strong. There was no static and no local interference. The scratchy buzz was on during the afternoon but stopped before 6 o'clock. This morning WGY seemed to be having trouble and only the hum of the carrier wave could be heard. The WOR exercise man was on the job. There were occasional snarls but no steady buzz.

Gauged by the letters Arthur E. Bagley, director of the Metropolitan Tower Health Exercises, received during January from members of the biggest gym class in the world, women are more keenly interested than men in setting-up exercises. His women correspondents totalled nearly 10,000 while their husbands, brothers, fathers, sons and sweethearts wrote only 2,439.

Friday night, March 9, from 6 until 7 o'clock a musical program will be broadcast by the Mutual Savings Bank of the New England states, New York, New Jersey and Maryland. The period of broadcasting, called Mutual Savings Bank Musical Hour, will be observed every Friday night and the bankers hope that it will be enjoyed by radio listeners, who are invited to tune in on WEA or WGY.

DR. TOWNER TO DELIVER ADDRESS AT AUDITORIUM.

There will be a mass meeting in the Auditorium Theatre next Sunday at 3 p. m. The Rev. William Keeney Towner of San Jose, Cal., who has been doing such remarkable work in the east, will deliver an address, "After That," which is an experience that transformed a church life. Dr. Towner has been in personal contact with the famous Almeda Semple McPherson, who was working with Dr. Towner during the transformation of his church in San Jose. This lecture will not be repeated and everybody is invited to hear him. The old time gospel hymns will be sung and a happy hour will be spent by all who attend.

Engine's Soot Covered House, Council Hears

Adolph Wolfersheim of Greenhill Avenue writes common council of his difficulties with West Shore Railroad—Damage Claims Considered—Other Matters.

Adolph Wolfersheim of 71 Greenhill Avenue wrote a communication to the common council which was read at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in which he complained that his house was covered with black soot from the West Shore Railroad engines. The letter was referred to the railroad committee. One damage claim against the city was adjusted and two were rejected. Alderman Fox called attention to the condition of North street and urged that it be repaired, introducing a resolution to that effect which was accompanied by a petition signed by 34 of the business houses downtown.

Mr. Wolfersheim's Complaint.
Mr. Wolfersheim's letter to the common council read as follows: "I wish to state I reside at 71 Greenhill Avenue and about a year ago my house was covered with black soot from the West Shore Railroad engines. I wrote to the superintendent of the railroad about this and he advised me to see Mr. Payson, claim agent, who looked over my house and he agreed he would come to a settlement in ten days and I have not heard from him up to this time. I wrote another letter to him and I did not even receive a reply."

"Last October, 1927, I repainted my house and about two weeks ago it again received another dose of wet black soot. I would be pleased to have a committee of the council investigate for themselves and see the condition of my house now. There are a couple of railroad engines that stand in front of my residence every day for several hours before the train leaves and when they leave to go to the station they throw out a wet black soot at times, which is a nuisance and very disrespectful. This matter has been promised me to be adjusted and attended to a year ago but has not been done. I am a taxpayer and believe I should have some consideration and ask the common council to kindly assist me in this matter."

Damage Claims Adjusted.
The auditing committee and Corporation Counsel Harry H. Fleming reported on the claim of Martin Gracie for $156.97 for damage to his property at 57 Murray street, due to the overflow from a surface water sewer recommending that it be adjusted for $45. The report was adopted.

Reject Two Claims.
The auditing committee and corporation counsel reported on two other damage claims recommending that they be rejected. The first claim was that of Mrs. Victoria Wiers for alleged damage to her property at 50 Murray street caused by an overflow from the surface water sewer. The other claim was that of Eliza Lawlor for alleged injuries claimed to have been received in a fall on a sidewalk on Thomas street on January 17 of this year. The report was adopted by the council.

North Street Up Again.
Alderman Fox of the Fifth ward introduced a resolution that North street be repaired as it was in "terrible condition" and attached to his resolution was a petition signed by thirty-four of the business houses downtown urging that something be done in regard to placing North street in shape for traffic. The alderman from the Fifth ward said that he would like to be heard on the subject and called attention to the fact that there had been a bus line operating over that street—Tiger's bus—but that it had stopped operations owing to the condition of the road. He said that to his knowledge the street had not been repaired in forty years; it had been patched up now and then. The resolution and petition was referred to the board of public works.

Lucas Avenue Sewer Levy.
The board of public works submitted a report on the work of constructing the sewer in a part of Lucas Avenue which had been completed. The total cost was $9,152.07, of which the city paid 25 per cent or $2,288.02, and interested property owners 75 per cent or $6,864.05. Alderman Hull introduced the usual resolution for the tax levy for the construction of the sewer, which was adopted.

Motions and Resolutions.
The aldermen introduced enough resolutions for street work to keep the board of public works busy for some time. The following were introduced and referred to the proper city boards:

Alderman Burger—that the private railroad crossing on Greenhill Avenue leading to the Hudson Valley Coke Company be repaired.

Alderman Haines—that an arc light be installed on O'Neil street at Program street.

Alderman Clark—that parking be permitted on one side only of Adams street as it is a very narrow street; that Webster street be made passable; that West Chestnut street from Montrose Avenue to the end be repaired; that a light be placed at the entrance to Montrose cemetery.

Alderman Burger—that more lights be placed on Greenhill Avenue between Broadway and Sterling street.

Alderman Fox—that holes and cuts in Delaware Avenue and Cordis street be filled in.

Alderman Osterlander—that Hunter street be graded and topsoiled from Ridge street to Abel street.

Alderman Kelya—that holes in Elizabeth street be filled.

Alderman Hermance—that holes on Grand street, Farrelly street and

Hats Resemble Houses

In the Hawaiian Islands, long before the inhabitants took the trouble to clothe themselves, they built grass houses, and at the present time the characteristic Hawaiian hat is remarkably like the hut.

The turbans of the dignitaries of the Eastern church are still of the shape of those worn by the high priests among the Jews of olden times, and they are extraordinarily like the characteristic domes that surmount mosques. Again, it is pointed out, the high pointed spires of Gothic churches were cotemporary with the high horn-like beehive known as the hennin. It is believed, too, that like results may be found after a comparison of other styles of architecture with the headgear of the period where in they flourished.—Washington Star.

Generous Enough

An old merchant, a landlord, of southern Indiana, quite wealthy, was riding majestically over his many acres after attending to some business with his tenant. He was surprised in catching a man in one of his corn bins putting corn into a sack. Drawing up, he said:

"Say, what air you doin' there in my cornbin?"

"Why, can't you see?" the fellow answered. "I'm taking some of your corn."

Astounded at his boldness, the landlord was at first speechless. Finally, he managed to say:

"Well, tech as light on't as you can. Giddap."

Asbestos as Insulator

According to the E. M. F. Electrical Year Book, asbestos in its pure state, free from metallic oxides, is a good electrical insulator. It is very difficult to find asbestos free from iron or other impurities and for this reason it is a better thermal insulator than electrical. Frequently it is mixed with other fibers or binding materials to increase its mechanical strength and to improve the insulation properties, and it is then fabricated into paper or sheets, boards, tape, cloth, etc. It is used as an insulation for wires and cables exposed to high temperatures.

Soviet Gold Under Ban Here

Washington, March 7 (AP).—Five million dollars in gold which the Soviet Government shipped to this country February 21 to help promote trade lay under a treasury ban today in two New York banks.

On the advice of the department of justice, the treasury held that the gold bars could not be accepted without violating the embargo against Russian gold importations placed in effect in 1921 or unless the two banks had offered the gold to the mint for purchase merely as agents of the Soviet Bank of Moscow and not as owners.

While officials here are unimpressed as to the ultimate disposition to be made of the metal now in the vaults of the Chase National Bank and Equitable Trust Company, New York (consignees, there are believed to be only two courses left open to the Soviet government, withdrawal of the gold or to let it lie idle in the vaults.

It is considered more likely that the first step will be taken since the gold, now valueless, is causing a loss to the Soviet of about $700 a day in interest. This lost interest now amounts to more than $100,000.

Features at Theatre.

A specialty at Reade's Kingston Theatre Thursday will be the screening of the exclusive motion picture of the Jack Delaney vs. Tom Healey heavyweight series taken at the ring-side in Madison Square Garden, New York city. At least seven of Frank Hall's sons were painters, and his daughters married into the profession.

BROADWAY'S OFFERING THE MAN OF MANY FACES

La Follette, known as "The Man of Many Faces," will be presented to theatregoers, on the stage of the Broadway Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. He will have a pretentious act of novelties, promised by Manager Harry Lazarus, to please all who attend. La Follette once played vaudeville as Rush Ling Toy, in Chinese, makeup and so completely mastered the mannerisms and talk of the yellow race that his acts of magic were thought to have been performed by a Chinaman. The manager of the Broadway Theatre feels that those who patronize his show house during the latter part of the week will enjoy the act he has booked.

Skating at Strubel's Pond.

Skaters will be able to use Strubel's pond to enjoy the outdoor sport tonight.

He has been given a rookie berth with the Boston Braves as a pitcher under Manager John Slater. "Putt" Moorman appeared in Kingston at the Farm and Bureau picnic while he was champion. With a record in semi-professional baseball at Rochester last year as a pitcher he has been given a chance with the Boston Braves. In one game "Putt" was credited with striking out 21 batters in one game.

Pocahontas Card Party.

She clung to him in a tumult of emotion. Nothing else seemed to matter, now that he held her in his arms. He looked down into her eyes—read their tender message—and claimed the kiss that honor forbade him to take. (See "My Buddie and My Wife," April True Story Magazine.)

THE LARGEST NEWSSTAND SALE IN THE WORLD—TWO MILLION M

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON—As a means of promoting international friendship, horses, ponies, horses, are recommended by the Prince of Wales. He said at a dinner of the British Latin American Chamber of Commerce: "I feel all over the world that if two men get together and talk about horses, if there is any frigidities about them, it very soon goes."

New York—Mrs. Richard T. Wilcox, who is related by marriage to the Vanderbilts and the Goelands, is giving up society for business. She has bought a curio store and will devote a portion of the profits to charity.

LONDON—If Ben Sued makes holy war on the British in Arabia and has to flee he's all prepared. He rides in a de luxe car. His 24 wives travel in closed motor vans and have to sit on the floor.

Stockholm—King Gustav, who is still a good tennis player and will be 70 years old June 16, is to devote a great birthday gift to study of cancer. The gift will consist of nationwide contributions.

New York—Arch Selwyn has come from London with a movie of Edith Cavell which was barred in England. He hopes to show it to President Coolidge and Governor Smith and obtain their approval for exhibition in this country.

Camden, N. J.—When the commanders of two scout cruisers now being built here for Uncle Sam wish to address the crews they can do so without leaving the bridge. Apparatus will be installed so that when desired speeches on the bridge can be heard anywhere aboard.

New York—Courts in the U. S. A. are ahead of some dictionaries and it is libelous to call a man a bootlegger. Refusing to dismiss a damage suit based on the term, Justice Levy of the state supreme court said that while linguistically the expression may not be considered reputable, the activities denoted by it have fallen under the ban of criminal statutes.

New York—Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall, who has made a fortune with a chain of restaurants, regards success for women in business as easy as two and two make four, but the price is great. She told Bryn Mawr alumnae: "In addition to the price in health, in leisure, in complete loss of reticence and traditions, you pay the much greater one of loss of a husband's society or even part of his society."

With a man's toulis and appendix goes his savings.

The woman who chews gum in public may be all right otherwise.

Looking over the present crop of sheiks who constitute the present generation, one cannot help wondering from where will come our President of thirty-five or forty years hence.

Enemies aren't a bad lot. They don't take you hunting and then pretend you are a squirrel.

Here's to the girls—the young ones—

Not too young.
For the good die young.
And nobody wants a dead one.

Here's to the girls—the old ones—

Not too old.
For the old die, too.
And nobody wants a dyed one!

Nobody likes to face the music when you're singing your own praise.

There are, of course, plenty of staggering figures to prove that prohibition is a failure.

Americanism: Kicking about the price of necessities; cheerfully paying too much for things that are luxuries.

What It Took.

This is what it took to make a dress forty years ago: Fifteen yards of wide silk, five yards of skirt lining, three yards of horsehair cloth to stiffen the skirt, four yards of silk for dust ruffle, five yards of valveteen skirt binding, twenty-four inches of skirt belting and the same of waist belting, one and one-half yards of sleeve lining, four inches of buckram for collar stiffening, four dozen fancy buttons, one card large hooks and eyes, two cards of medium and one card of invisible hooks and eyes, five spools of cotton thread, four of buttonhole twist, two yards of feather boning for waist, one yard of small boning for collar and belt of seam binding. And yet we still hear persons making fun of women's clothes of today.

A man's interest is many a woman's capital.

The rich and the poor meet together and the Lord himself couldn't make them keep away from the other fellow's gambling devices.

The reason Cupid makes so many mistakes, is because, he does not wear any clothes and the censors make him work in the dark.

Some men make an honest living, some a living and some get a living.

"Why do you look so troubled, Johnnie?"

"Because if I go to school to-day de teacher'll lick me for not preparin' my lesson, an' if I stay home, me mudder'll lick me for not goin' to school. Now, either I got to go or stay home. But if I go an' de teacher licks me an' mudder finds it out, me mudder'll lick me fer not doin' me school work; an' if I stay home an' me mudder licks me, de teacher'll lick me tomorrow for bein' a truant! Gee! Guess I'll go to sleep!"

"What did that bootlegger get in police court this morning?"

"A couple of new customers."

It pays to improve property. The White Houses was done over this year and now look how many prospective tenants are eager to move in.

Husband (returning from angling trip): "What do you think of these beauties?"
Wife: "Don't try to deceive me. Mrs. Naylor saw you in the fish shop."

Husband: "Yes, I know she did. You see I caught so many I simply had to sell some."

The less you know about it the better critic you'll make.

So many folks worry about their lot, mostly because they haven't any.

Tells How Girls Can Get "Line" on Fiance

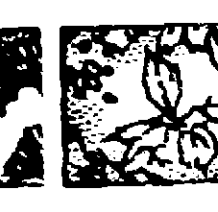

Two angles of the prenuptial state which women should give careful consideration, so that they may be able to avoid the pitfalls of marriage, are pointed out by Doris Webster and Mary Alden Hopkins in an article in Liberty.

"First," warn the authors, "study his faults; second, observe him when he is angry. Under the first head list his failings and decide whether or not you can endure them; for, while his charm may disappear, his imperfections will remain. Decide whether or not you can live with him for fifty years. Do not make the common mistake of thinking that you can reform him, even in tiny matters like flicking cigarette ashes on the best china."

Taking up the second point, we advise careful study of his emotional reactions. What does he get mad at? Get a line on him when he is twisting his mouth into a snarl or booming through his whiskers. How are you going to handle him when he is raging or sulking? One final piece of information we borrow upon questioning domestic, and it will not do married women any harm to mail it over, too: No woman being can change another individual's personality.

Electric Chair Death Denounced as Brutal

When the governor of New York in 1888 signed the bill that abolished hangings in the state and provided death by electric shock for certain classes of criminals, the people of New York arose and denounced it as a brutal measure.

It is hard for the present generation to understand the agitations and uproars caused by this step. In our day electricity is a household drudge, and electrocution has been established in 19 states.

But in the eighties electrical development was just beginning. To the average citizen there was something diabolical in the proposal to inflict death by such a terrible and unseen power. Preachers thundered against the chair from their pulpits. Newspapers condemned it in blistering editorials. Doctors and scientists were not even sure that electric current would kill.—Frederick Tisdale, in Liberty Magazine.

PROMISES LONG, HEALTHY LIFE TO WEAK, THIN-BLOODED PEOPLE

Scientists Discover "Mysterious Substance" in Beef Livers That Makes Rich Red Blood and Creates Strength, Vigor and Vitality—Often in 8 Days.

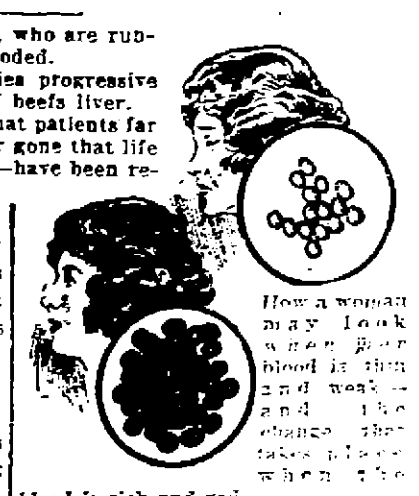

There's help for men and women who are run-down, weak, tired-out and thin-blooded. In New York and other big cities progressive physicians are prescribing a diet of beef liver. They have found by actual tests that patients far gone with pernicious anemia—so far gone that life itself was only a matter of months—have been restored to health.

In order to get this "Mysterious Substance" or Vitamins in a greatly condensed form one of New York's famous Laboratories is putting up a liquid elixir known to Pharmacists as Hemo-Liver.

This preparation is not a patent medicine—the vitamins are extracted by a new process from fresh beefs liver so that the blood making health creating substances are saved.

It is not a patent medicine but a pleasant to take elixir which all thin-blooded people and especially those who need more vigor and vitality are urged to try.

Hemo-Liver is now dispensed by all druggists who keep abreast of the times with the distinct understanding that if one bottle does not help—wonderfully—your money will be returned.

How a woman may look when her blood is thin and weak—and the change that takes place when the blood is rich and red.

Britain Ready For Holy War

London, March 7 (AP).—British aircraft was ready today for combat in a holy war.

The possibility that Ibn Saud, king of Hedjaz and Sultan of Nejd, would attack the borders of Iraq and Transjordan, mandated British territory, was met with active preparations by Great Britain.

Advices from Basra, Iraq, said an airplane base was established at Kuwait, at the head of Persian gulf, of ten bombing machines. Ten armored cars and numerous transport vehicles and ambulance cars also were there.

The total air force detachment in Iraq, to the north of Kuwait, consists of 15 bombing planes and a dozen Bristol fighters. The air correspondent of the London Evening Star said he had learned from an authoritative source that arrangements were made to hold in readiness reinforcements in Egypt, Palestine and India.

Horticultural News

USE FERTILIZERS TO BOOST GRAPES

Vineyards fertilized with nitrate of soda showed an increased yield of 30 per cent in the grape belt of northern Ohio this year. A three-year experiment under the direction of C. S. Boland, extension specialist in horticulture at the Ohio State university, gave these returns when a final check was made.

The heavy increase was brought about by the addition of 500 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. It was checked against unfertilized plots and showed a yield of grapes worth $24.40 per acre more than grapes produced on unfertilized plots.

Application of 250 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre brought a production increase of 20 per cent, or $49 worth of grapes per acre. The fertilizer was applied in the spring, and was broadcast by hand.

The cost of the nitrate of soda was $15 per acre when 500 pounds was applied, $7.50 per acre when 250 pounds was used. The overhead cost of production remained the same, so that the heavier yields cost less per pound to produce.

The experiment was started three years ago and was conducted in five counties bordering on Lake Erie and including several types of soil. Because of a late freeze, all grapes were lost the first year; the second year the check against the unfertilized plots showed in favor of the fertilizer, and the results in 1927 were even more conclusive.

The demonstration was based upon experiments conducted in New York, which showed that nitrogen fertilizers gave the greatest increase in yield, but that the increase from potash and phosphate was not enough to justify their use.

Necessity and Value of Pruning Fruit Trees

The opinions of apple growers as to the necessity and value of pruning have been modified to a considerable extent in recent years. While it is now generally recognized that pruning is much less necessary than was once believed to be the case, it is still looked upon as a necessary operation by most progressive orchardists in this country, particularly in shaping the trees.

Working to discover a system of pruning satisfactory from the standpoint of economy of orchard operation as well as the yielding of high-class fruit, the superintendent of a Canadian experimental station has found it good practice to head back one-year-old whips to 30 inches at planting time. By winter these young plants have usually produced several vigorous shoots from which a leader and two scaffold branches may be selected.

In selecting the scaffold branches to be preserved care has to be taken to leave the trunk at a good wide angle. It is also important that the lower branches be left not nearer than two feet from the ground.

These scaffolds are tipped to preserve balance and to encourage branching, the leader being headed about six inches longer than the laterals. It is recommended that the scaffolds or laterals should be left at least 18 inches long, as more severe heading usually results in the formation of too many side branches close to the trunk, necessitating the removal of much wood later on.

Circular on Raspberry Ills From Iowa Station

Six diseases found on raspberries in Iowa are described and control measures for them outlined in a new circular, No. 105, "Raspberry Diseases in Iowa," just issued by the Iowa agricultural experiment station at Ames. As long as the supply lasts, they will be sent free upon request.

The diseases described are anthracnose, septoria leaf spot, orange rust, crown gall, mosaic disease and leaf curl disease. Winter injury, frequently mistaken for a disease, is described. Besides killing back the plants, winter injury also permits diseases to gain a foothold.

Anthracnose attacks both red and black raspberries, but is serious only on the black varieties. With this disease the canes first develop small purplish spots. Toward the end of the growing season, the canes may become dry and split where affected.

Septoria leaf spot affects both the black and red varieties, but is not serious most seasons. Orange rust attacks black raspberries and blackberries, but doesn't bother the red raspberries. The undersides of leaves affected with orange rust develop blisters which later discharge orange-colored spores.

Start Young Tree

To start a young tree properly it must be cut off at the right height when set. Peach and plum trees when set should be cut off not higher than 18 inches from the ground. In the spring when the buds come out on the body of the young tree, three or four of the small shoots should be selected to make the permanent branches of the tree. Care should be extended in selecting the permanent limbs to avoid the formation of weak crotches and other defects.

VELMA WEST GETS LIFE SENTENCE

When the Ohio state prosecuting authorities agreed to accept a second degree murder guilt plea for Velma West, youthful husband "hammer slayer," prison for life was the sentence. CHIEF WOOD AND EX-MAYOR ADDRESS TRIANGLE CLUB

Monday evening the Triangle Club of Franklin Lodge, No. 37, Knights of Pythias, held another of their popular monthly dinners at the rooms of the lodge on Broadway. Chief of Police J. Allan Wood was the speaker of the evening and taking as his topic "Police and Citizenship" gave a very interesting talk to the members. Responding to Chief Wood, ex-Mayor John E. Kraft told of the conditions of the city 38 years ago and of how the city was cared for at that time with practically no police force. It is the intention of the Triangle Club of Franklin Lodge to hold these popular meetings and dinners once a month, on the first Monday evening of the month. They are well attended and much sociability and good are gotten out of them by members.
